

Steve Welton – Chair of Standards Committee

Now retired, Steve was previously head teacher of special schools, and worked previously as Ofsted inspector, adviser and school improvement consultant across the Midlands. As a governor he does what he can to support the staff of the College make the best possible provision for people in Grantham. He believes that all learners should have access to rich educational experiences that will equip them for life, work and the challenges of the future.