

Ben Slater

I am a qualified social worker, registered with the Health and Care Professions Council. I am the director of Nellie Supports, an independent adult social care consultancy, based in Grantham, offering support and help to individuals, communities and business. I was a mature student completing the Access to Higher Education Diploma prior to attending the University of Lincoln. I am a father of three and have lived in Grantham for around 6 years.