

Natasha Halliday

Natasha is a practising Employment Law Solicitor, with nearly 20 years' experience in the area. She now works at Chattertons solicitors in Grantham after spending the majority of her career at City Firms in London.

Raised in Leicestershire and Nottinghamshire and educated at the University of Manchester (LLB 1st class honours) and Nottingham Law School.

In addition to her wealth of experience in the Employment Law sphere, Natasha holds Chartered member status of the Institute of Personnel and Development

Natasha has 3 Children who all attend school in Grantham.

In her spare time, Natasha enjoys the theatre, reading and discussing books with her book clubs and taking her dog on long country walks. Natasha is also a volunteer at her local community library.